Exclusive Interview

Miguel Heitor

Deputy Tournament Director & Match Commissioner -
Alkass International Cup U17

What does this tournament represent to you?

Most of the operations in this event have been working the same way since the first edition in 2012, and I was part of that very first event. For me, being involved from the beginning makes the tournament feel personal and special. It's really like a baby to me, because I've seen it grow over the years, and being part of this team is a privilege. Many of my colleagues, like Nadine and Ali Muftah, have been involved for a long time as well, which makes it feel even more like a family.

How do your efforts on and off the field contribute to the tournament's success?

My role combines match operations with overall tournament management. We need to make sure training facilities, pitches, and dressing rooms are ready and well maintained for the teams. Match timing, referees, countdowns, and technical areas must be perfect. I also check player equipment, age verification, registration forms, and rules compliance. Everything is planned so that teams have the best environment to perform. As Deputy Tournament Director, I oversee competition elements, and as Match Commissioner, I make sure each match starts and runs exactly as it should.

Why is the Alkass International Cup important for young talents competing at U17 level?

This tournament is very important for young players because it gives them exposure to international competition and allows them to experience professionalism at a young age. They learn responsibility, discipline, and how to prepare for games in a structured environment. Playing in a well-organised tournament helps them develop their skills, understand match procedures, and gain experience against top teams. It's a complete learning opportunity that prepares them for the next stages of their football careers while also showing them what it takes to perform at a high level.
